How ſhould a veteran wiſh to die?
Where ſhould his ſcar worn body lie?
Not upon the pale ſick bed,
Where weak limb'd infants droop the head,
Where Apoplexy's temple ſwims,
And coward Palſy lays his limbs,
An aged women yeild their breath,
Withour a ſtruggle unto death.
Who in his life-time liv'd with glory,
He ſhould die, and make a ſtory,
By the foe-man's bloody hands,
Fighting 'mid the armed bands,
Where heaps of ſlain compoſe a pile,
To drarken all the land of Nile.
In age's honor, conqueſt's pride,
E'en ſo great Abercrombie died.

And Malta keeps the heroe's bones:
Malta, ſtill famous for the tomb
Of brave knights ſlain for Chriſtendom.
I will not blame the humantear,
O baroneſs of Abourki!
There is a tear in virtue's eye,
Which pride of titles cannot dry;
Nor ſtatelieſt funeral exequies,
Nor a nation's plandities;
Nor the tears of Chriſtendom,
Weep upon thy dear Lord's tomb;
Nor thy blood and names augmented,
With what the heralds have invented,
Of ſounding pedigree and ſtate,
To ſoften o'er the wounds of Fate.

(a 5 d)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.

By London papers to the 1st of July inclusive, brought by the ship Delaware, we learn that parliament does not appear to be engaged in business of much interest. The latest French papers received in England contained no information of consequence. Buonaparte was visiting the French ports upon the channel. He had been at Boulogne, and was supposed to have arrived at Calais. The gallant Sir Sidney Smith was in the channel, and it was presumed would at least salute the first consul for the purpose of renewing the acquaintance so happily formed at Acre.

Summary of Intelligence.

An active correspondence was carrying on between the Courts of London, Petersburgh and Paris, through the mediation of the Russian Ministers at London and Paris; but in England, they did not expect Peace to be the result.

The French army was in entire possession of Hanover and its dependencies—all expectations of an interference from the Northern Powers, as to the affairs of Hanover, the Hanse towns and the Elbe, had vanished, and England began to view their intentions with some degree of suspicion, as being hostile to her interests. Certain it was, that a considerable Russian armament was fitting out with great activity.

The Batavian Ambassador had left England, and letters of marque and general reprisal were issued against the Republic. Mr. Liston and family had arrived from the Hague, and was to go out immediately on an extraordinary embassy to Copenhagen. The Duke of Cambridge had arrived in England, and was appointed Lieut. Gen. in the army, being the same rank which he held in Hanover. An expedition was confidently spoken of, to be sent from Malta, to re-occupy Alexandria. An immediate attack was expected to be made by the French on the islands of Jersey and Guernsey: five frigates had been dispatched for their protection. Great exertions were making in all the channel ports of France, to fit out gun boats. The packet boats continued to run between England and France. It is stated that in one of these, 20 cases of garden seeds went from Dover for Madame Buonaparte! The First Consul had issued orders to the privateers and ships of war to detain all English passengers and seamen, even out of neutral vessels. The French funds were at 48.

Vast numbers of homeward bound French and Dutch vessels, with rich cargoes, had been captured by the English. The number sent into Plymouth only, was 105, the computed value of which, was a million and a half.

Defensive preparations were making with great activity all along the channel coast. Forty thousand supplementary Militia were to be immediately drafted and trained, under the title of the army of reserve. Substitutes were at from 15*l.* to 20*l.* per man. The ministers' contract for the new loan, was considered as very advantageous. For a day or two the Omnium was at a premium of one per cent, in the market—then fell to disc. and proceeded to 4 per cent. discount. Great fears were entertained for the contractors on the day that the first instalment became payable. It was paid however, with promptness, after which the Om. bore a better price.—On the 22d of June it was at 2 per cent. disc. The Minister had rejected the terms offered for the New Lottery, and declared that if a better price was not offered by the parties, he would raise the supplies in another way. The East India company had expressed their intention of opposing the extravagant new duty proposed to be laid on teas.

A great degree of unanimity appears to prevail amongst the people of England in support of the war. The late abundant rains gave a prospect of a good harvest all through the country. The price of bread was 9d per quartern loaf. Barley and potatoes very low. Port Wine, in consequence of the new duty, had risen from 4s to 5s the bottle, and other wines in proportion.

Mr. Tierney had gained his election for the borough of Southwark. Sir Thomas Turton had demanded a scrutiny. Mrs. Pope, the actress, died suddenly. Her death supposed to be occasioned by a fit of apoplexy, with which she was seized while playing for Mr. Cooper's benefit.

Extract of a letter from New York, dated August 17.

"The ship Delaware, Captain Beebe, arrived this morning from Liverpool. Her letters and papers are to the 2d July. The following is a letter received by a mercantile house here, dated the 1st July.

"We have now to advise, that in consequence of the situations the French have occupied at the mouth of the Elbe and Weser, prevent our ships from occupying the same, our government has declared both rivers to be in a state of blockade against all shipping whatever, until Prussia shall guarantee the accustomed freedom of trading to Hamburg, and the other towns on their banks. What effect this determined measure may produce, it is impossible to foresee; but meanwhile all business is put a stop to, and nothing has been doing for some time past in sugar, coffee, or the West India articles.

"Notice.—His Britannic Majesty has judged it expedient to establish the most rigorous blockade at the entrance of the mouth of the river Elbe, and to maintain and enforce the same in the strictest manner, according to the usages of war, acknowledged and allowed in similar cases.

"JAMES MAURY.

"American Consulate, Liverpool, July 1, 1803.

"To Capt. Beebe of the ship Delaware."

From Liverpool July 2.

"By a late decree of the French government, all merchandize shipped in this country, is prohibited from being landed in France, and accounts are just received, that the mouth of the Elbe, is blockaded by the British, and no vessel, of whatever country, permitted to enter or to go out of that river; the demand in consequence, for sugar, coffee, and other export produce is nearly suspended; and unless a vent is soon opened in some port on the continent, to carry off the produce, which is now accumulating, we fear, that the stagnation which will be put to this branch of our trade, added to the consequent scarcity of money, will operate unfavorably on the prices; but if we find other convenient ports for the sale of export produce, it is likely the present quotations will be maintained.

"Immediately after the commencement of hostilities, grain and flour advanced in price; but as it is generally believed, that there is a larger stock of grain in the country than has been for some years at the same season, and the growing corn being considerable in quality, and thus far promoting in appearance most articles of provisions have declined in price.—Good American wheat may be quoted at from 8*s* 3*d* to 8*s* 6*d* per 70lb. but as several of our mills cannot at present work, owing to the light winds and scarcity of water, there is no demand for it. Flour in consequence of this, is in demand at 33s. per barrel; this a very low price, but we do not expect any advance, unless the light winds and drought should continue for a length of time, or that we should have unfavorable weather for the growing corn.

"The permission to import grain and flour free of duty, which has now ceased and the old corn laws again took effect on the 1st instant. The permission however is extended with respect to beef and pork, which may be imported free of duty till the 30th of September next.

"Pot and pearl ashes, in consequence of some speculations, experienced an advance during last month; but the demand has now ceased, and prices seem rather on the decline.

"The suspension of the export trade to the continent of Europe, materially affects cotton, and the sales for some time past have been very limitted; Upland Georgias may be quoted at 12 a 12½ per lb. fine qualities may be considered rather more valuable, but there are few fine Uplands in the market, the late importations being generally inferior.

An act has just been passed for consolidating the import duties which occasions some alteration, and these shall be noticed in our next prices current. Which we intend to send you in a few days. We may also mention that a bill is now before Parliament for imposing additional duties upon several articles of importation, and likewise an export duty of 3 per cent.—Probably the bill may undergo some alteration, and it is not therefore necessary for us to mention the particulars of it, but when it has passed, we hope duly to inform you; among the new duties proposed is one of 1d. per lb. on Cotton Wool imported.

From Gibraltar

Capt. Swett, arrived at Boston the 12th inst. in 45 days from Gibraltar informs, that passports had been granted by the American Commodore, and the Consuls at Gibraltar, and Tangiers, permitting a Tripolitan ship to sail under Moorish colours, as a Moorish ship, and her Tripoline papers were left sealed up in the care of Mr. Gavino. She was manned with 8 Moors, and bound for Tunis; and the Tripolitan capt. was permitted to take passage in her. On her way up she stopped at Gibraltar and took in more men, with whose assistance the capt. overpowered the Moors, and were going into Tripoli; when she was met, and captured by the U. S. frigate John Adams, and sent into Malta.

An English merchantman arrived at Gibraltar a few days previous to Capt. S's sailing, and reported that she had spoken 6 Tripolitan cruizers in the Gulph of Venice.

Many neutrals had been brought in, on suspicion. Among them the Randal, a valuable ship from the Isle of France, and several vessels from St. Domingo.

Alexandria Advertiser.

MONDAY, AUGUST 22.

☞ Mr. Richardson's address to the friends of T. W. Peyton, shall appear tomorrow.

While Genet was planting the tree of mischief in the peaceable soil of the United States in the year 1793, he was worshipped by the deluded democrats. The Eagle of America had no sooner stopt the crowing of this Gallic cock, than that gentle race of our fellow citizens became loud in their abuse of the man who had rescued them from the machinations of France. At a civic feast of French and American citizens, on the 6th of February, 1794, among a number of toasts, nearly as wicked as some which disgraced the last anniversary of our independence, was the following:

"The persecuted Citizen Genet; may "his country reward his honest zeal, and "the shafts of calumny, levelled against "him, recoil upon the archer."

Washington was the archer—whose arrow hit the citizen; and thereby averted a curse upon our land, by exterminating the bloody system of Robespierre, which he was then introducing amongst us.

The second part of that composition of anarchy, called "The Rights of Man," was dedicated to the Marquis La Fayette, who was then, it seems, the idol of its blasphemous author. In less than twelve months afterwards the virtuous Thomas Paine assisted in passing an act of condemnation against that unfortunate General; and soon after became the principal instrument in passing of another act, by which his innocent wife and children were left without bread to eat. Should Thomas Jefferson offend Thomas Paine, we may look for another act of gratitude. Things more unlikely have happened; vide the charges of Callender against the Philosopher of Monticello.

Late accounts from Paris insinuate that Bonoparte is disordered in his intellects. As Hamlet says, "there needs no ghost to tell us that," since the convincing symptoms at his levee to Lord Whitworth. How many instances do we read of, in the derangement of men who were suddenly elevated to situations they were never intended by nature to sustain.

THE THEATRE.

The favorite comedy of "Speed the Plough," was performed on Thursday evening, and, we are sorry to observe, to a very thin audience.

The merits of this comedy, added to the manner in which it was performed, deserved more general attention—there was much to commend and but little to censure.

The return of Mrs. Green, after a long sickness, must be gratifying to the theatrical amateurs. Her performance was chaste and correct.

Mr. Bernard, one of the best comic actors in America, did not appear to us to hit off his part so very successfully, as we were in the habit of observing. Though long on the Bath theatre, he had not the true Zummersitshire dialect. The author has written, and the clowns in that part of the country say, Dom, and not Damn, and they pronounce much broader, as it is termed, than Mr. Bernard, but, perhaps, he thought it a neceſſary deviation, before an American audience.

Mr. Story labored thro' the arduous part of Bob Handy, with ſome credit because he was perfect, but the character is not in his line of acting.

To Mr. Hopkins, we muſt ever offer the tribute of praiſe, while he performs as on Thurſay. To ſee, a very youth, hit off the manners of old age ſo ſucceſsfully, is a ſort of theatrical phenomenon—while his wife, with ſtill fewer years of practice, is the delight of the audience.

Mr. Green's condeſcenſion in the part of a ſervant, upon a meſſage, was highly to his credit, and while it was an excellent leſſon to underſtrappers, who often from carleſſneſs create diſguſt, in the repetition of half a dozen lines, it ſhewed his reſpect to the audience, and the intereſt he takes in the credit of the ſtage.

Mr. Clare muſt, at leaſt, "get his part by heart," ere we can ſay a word in his favor.

June 23, arrived the Catharine, Nicholſon, from the river Plata.

A Commercial friend has put into our hands, several letters from a respectable house in Liverpool. One of the 25th of June says,

"Advices from Holland, &c. continue to quote advancing prices, much more than equal to our last quotation; and we doubt not therefore but means will be hit upon to transport such articles thither from hence, notwithstanding, war is declared with the Batavian republic—prices of sugar, coffee, &c. are mean time, however almost nominal. Dye woods continue to be wanted for home consumption, and Honduras logwood by British ships commands from 26 to 27l. Campeachy 28l. Fustic 20 to 22l. 10s. prices of Mahogany likewise keep steady. Cotton is affected by the preſſure of the times which occaſions a general ſcarcity of money, as well as ſtagnation in trade, but which may prove only temporary—moſt holders ſtill ask the late prices for their cottons. Nothing is doing in wheats, we cannot quote it at more than 8s 3d to 8s 9d per 70 lbs. for New York, from 34s to 35s for ſuperfine flour. Rice being high on the continent, looks up here, and is worth 36 to 38s per cwt, free of duty or export, Aſhes also rather improve, say pot 43 to 46s, and pearl 49 to 53s per cwt. Naval ſtores are much as laſt quoted—Staves of good quality are ſcarce and in great requeſt, say bbl. 10. 10. to 18l 18s. hhd. 22 to 28l. and pipe 30 to 35l. per M.

(Ame. Dai. Adv.)

The aſſociates of Gallatin know well that they owe their elevation, in a degree, to the dexterous and ſucceſsful manner in which his jargon was metamorphoſed into eloquent ſpeeches. They know that the public were led aſtray by the deluſion, that he poſſeſſed all the eſſential qualities which entitled a man to private eſteem and public applauſe. The cunning and jeſuiticalneſs of his life, afford but few opportunities to approach his character with offenſive ſeverity. His fellow labourers were better known. They had no pretenſions to Meſſiah-ſhip. They knew that their ſchemes could not be effected without the eſtabliſhment of a ſect, who, guided and influenced altogether by their faith, would not only forego the holy attributes of truth and reaſon; but would be as well ſatisfied with a jargon, which they did not underſtand, as the Roman Catholics are with the latin dogmas which are repeated by the prieſts. It was this blind and miſleading faith, which attached to Gallatin a popularity which has led to democratic ſucceſs; and ſo great has been the deluding effect, that even Mr. Jefferſon, with all the advantages of his ſtation, power, perſonal popularity, and office, did not venture to exerciſe his own judgment. Public juſtice was ſacrificed at the altar of neceſſity, and individual convenience. From one end of the continent to the other, public expectation was turned towards a Gallatin as the ſucceſſor of a Wolcott, though from oppoſite cauſes. The moſt influential men of the prevailing party know theſe truths, and altho' there are not two who can diſagree, yet they durſt not avow it, becauſe by doing ſo, they would deſtroy one of the pillars upon which their own power and popularity depends; they would, by the ſame act, either acknowledge, that they had been deceived, which would weaken their own tottering fabric, or elſe that they had given to a ſtranger, an intriguer, a declaimer, and an upſtart, a falſe popularity for the moſt fraudulent purpoſes. (Anti Demo.)

It can hardly be forgotten what clamors were raiſed againſt the laſt adminiſtration, becauſe Mr. Adams occaſionally in the ſummer ſeaſon took a trip to the place of his reſidence, although he always left a majority of the heads of departments at the ſeat of government, to attend to the public buſineſs. The people were then told the negligence of their officers, and of the ſhameful practice of receiving the public money, and doing nothing for it. Men who could thus abandon their poſts, were unworthy of public truſt. How ſtands the account now? The pure and unſpotted "Republicans" of the preſent day, can never be guilty of what they formerly ſo pointedly condemnee? We have been repeatedly aſſured that they never neglect their buſineſs. There are at preſent abſent from the ſeat of government, the following officers, ſome of them for months, and all for weeks paſt, except the Comptroller of the Treaſury, who held out till a few days ago.

Thos. Jefferſon, Preſident of the United States—James Madiſon, Secretary of State—Albert Gallatin, Secretary of the Treaſury—H. Dearborn, Man of War—R. Smith, Secretary of the Navy—J. Munroe, Superintendant of the City and Deputy Poſt Maſter—Levi Lincoln, Attorney General—Gideron Granger, Poſt Maſter General—Gabriel Duval, Comptroller of the Treaſury—J. Simmonds, Accountant of the War Department—T. Turner, Accountant of the Navy Department; with many more inferior officers and Clerks.

Their anxiety to have the conſtitution changed, as to the mode of electing the Preſident, very naturally accounts for their abſence, but the people are to judge whether they pay ſalaries to their officers, for the purpoſe of electioneering.

For ſome days paſt it is ſaid, that the government has been paying a commiſſion to the poſtmaſter for letters, becauſe there was no one here to frank them. The Treaſurer, who has a right to frank for his department only, has nevertheleſs broken the law and franked for the State department. The poſt-maſter with great propriety, more obſervant of his duty arreſted the letters.—Thus we ſee that even democrats, who are high in office too, don't mind breaking the law, when it interferes with their views. The laſt mail has removed the embarraſment in the department of ſtate, as it brought 'franked' a trunk containing blank franks from the Secretary of State.

This ſhews us how the world goes—Under the laſt adminiſtration, it was criminal for a ſingle officer to remove from the ſeat of government. The very men who then condemned with ſo much bitterneſs, now leave the government without a ſingle Councillor, to ſuperintend the public buſineſs. (Waſh. Fed.)

THE ABBE SIEYES.

THIS man has lived through all the diſaſters of the French revolution, and has acted a part in almoſt every faction that has in its turn governed the great nation. The ſingular fate of the abbe proves that he is either very harmleſs, or, what is more probable, that he poſſeſſes the greateſt facility in changing his creed, and that as he finds one wave of public opinion breaking under him, can very dexterouſly ſhift himſelf to the next.

When Mr. Burke wrote upon the revolution, Sieyes was filling his "pidgeon holes" with new conſtitutions for his country; he has eſcaped amids all the convulſions that have ſince taken place, and it is not recollected whether he is now one of the cyphers of the conſulate, or is retired, again to ſtuff his "pigeon holes" with conſtitutions. The following anecdote ſhows that he is "wiſer in his generation" than almoſt all his aſſociates.

A foreigner in France called at a ſhop where ſuch things were uſually ſold, to purchaſe the prints of the moſt conſpicuous actors in the revolution. The man ſhook his head, while he ran over the liſt, and then ſaid, that having preſered his ſafety to his property, he had deſtroyed all his prints ſucceſſively, as the originals became proſcribed, or were ſacrificed.—"At the acceſſion of a new party, (continued he) I always prepare for a viſit, clear my windows and ſhelves of the exploded heads, and replace them by thoſe of their rivals. Nay, I aſſure you ſince the revolution, our trade is become as precarious as that of a gameſter. The conſtitutionaliſts, indeed, held out pretty well, but then I was half ruined by the fall of the Briſſotins; and before I could retrieve a little by the Herbertiſts and Dantoniſts, they too, were out of faſhion." "Well, but the Robeſpierrians; you muſt have gained by them?"—Why, true: Robeſpierre and Marat anſwered well enough; yet they are gone after the reſt. Here, however (ſays he, taking down an engraving of the Abbe Sieyes) here is a piece of merchandize that I have kept through all parties, religions and conſtitutions, and now you ſee him in faſhion again, mounted on the wrecks and ſupported by the remnants of both his friends and enemies; Oh! he's a knowing one."

Epitaph on a Sluggard.

Lo! here does Lazy lawrence lie;
Who, when he bade the world adieu,
Cried—"O what bliſs it is to die!
For, now, I've nothing more to do."

CASES OF CURES—by Hamilton's Worm Deſtroying Lozenges.

(Selected from thouſands) the authenticity of which any perſon may aſcertain, either by letter or perſonal application.

Dr. HAMILTON's ELIXIR,

A ſovereign remedy for Colds, Obſtinate Coughs Aſthmas, Catarrhs, Sore Throats, and Approaching Conſumptions.

To parents who may have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH.

This diſcovery is of the firſt magnitude, as it is an immediate relief, checks the progreſs, and in a ſhort time entirely removes the moſt cruel diſorder to which children are liable—the Elixir is ſo perfectly agreeable and the doſe ſo ſmall, that no difficulty ariſes in taking it.

From LUTHER MARTIN, Eſq. Attorney-General of the State of Maryland.

Gentlemen,

I comply with your requeſt in ſtating my opinion of Hamilton's Elixir. It has been uſed in my family for two or three years paſt, with uniform ſucceſs, whenever colds, coughs, or ſimilar complaints have rendered medicine neceſſary. I have myſelf found it an excellent and agreeable remedy for a very painful and troubleſome affection of the breaſt, accompanied with foreneſs and with obſtructed and difficult breathing

On theſe accounts I do not heſitate to recommend Hamilton's Elixir, as a valuable medicine, and deſerving public attention.

LUTHER MARTIN.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge-Street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's elixir of a very complicated diſorder, occaſioned by a ſevere cold caught ſeveral months ago. He breathed with the greateſt difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening ſweats when he attempted to walk any diſtance, and his voice would frequently fail in ſuch a degree that he could only attempt to whiſper, he has been upwards of ſix weeks without a return of his complaints, and deſires to give this public teſtimony in favour of this invaluable medicine.

Dr. Hamilton's GRAND RESTORATIVE,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the ſpeedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which reſult from diſſipated pleaſures—juvenile indiſcretions—reſidence in climates unfavourable to the conſtitution—the immoderate uſe of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other deſtructive intemperance—the unſkilful or exceſſive uſe of mercury—the diſeaſes peculiar to females, at a certain period of life—bad lyings in, &c. &c.

And is proved by long and extenſive experience to be abſolutely unparallelled in the cure of

Nervous diſorders,	Violent cramps in the ſtomach and back,
Conſumptions,	Indigeſtion,
Lowneſs of ſpirits,	Melancholy,
Loſs of appetite,	Gout in the ſtomach,
Impurity of the blood,	Pains in the limbs,
Hyſterical affections,	Relaxations,
Inward weakneſſes,	Involuntary emiſſions,
Seminal weakneſſes,	Obſtinate gleets,
Fluoralbus, (or whites)	Impotency, &c. &c.
Barrenneſs,

In caſes of extremity, where the long prevalence and obſtinacy of diſeaſe has brought on a general impoveriſhment of the ſyſtem, exceſſive debility of the whole frame, and a waſting of the fleſh, which no nouriſhment or cordial could repair a perſeverance in the uſe of this medicine pas performed the moſt aſtoniſhing cures.

HAMILTON's ESSENCE and EXTRACT of MUSTARD,

A ſafe and effectual remedy for gout, rheumatiſm, paſſey, ſprains, bruiſes, pains in the face and neck, &c. And has performed more cures in the above complaints than all the other medicines ever before made public.

From Dr. Weatherburn, Wyth county, Virginia.

Gentlemen,

I purchaſed at your ſhop the preparations you call Hamilton's Eſſence, or Extract of Muſtard, which I believe has perfectly removed a chronic rheumatiſm (of that kind named ſciatica, or of the hip joint) under which I had labpured for a long time, and which had baffled every article in the Materia Medica, and every mode of treatment received into practice for the cure of this obſtinate diſeaſe. If you think this letter uſeful you are at liberty to make it public.

Yours, &c.

P. WEATHERBURN.

John Hoover, rope-maker, South Second Street, between Mary and Chriſtian-Streets, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath as follows; namely, that his wife, Mary Hoover, was ſo ſeverely afflicted with a violent rheumatiſm, very dangerouſly ſituated, the conſequence of a ſevere cold after lying in, as to be confined to her bed for ſeveral weeks, and was at length reduced to the melancholy apprehenſion of remaining a cripple for life, notwithſtanding the moſt reſpectable medical advice was followed, and every probable remedy attempted: when ſeeing ſeveral caſes of cures performed by Hamilton's Eſſence and Extract of Muſtard, they were procured from Mr. Birch, No. 17, South ſecond-Street. The firſt application enabled her to walk acroſs the room, and the uſe of one bottle reſtored her to her uſual ſtate of heath and ſtrength JOHN HOOVER.

Sworn and ſubſcribed before Ebnezerger Forſon, Eſq. one of the juſtices of the peace to Philadelphia County.

HAMILTON's WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have within four years paſt cured upwards of one hundred and twenty thouſand perſons of both ſexes, of every age, and in every ſituation, of various dangerous complaints ariſing from worms, and form obſtructions or foulneſs in the ſtomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever of ſimilar title, ſo commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being ſuited to every age and conſtitution; contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is ſo mild in its operation that it cannot injure the moſt delicate pregnant lady, or the tendereſt infant of a week old, ſhould no worms exiſt in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanſe the ſtomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offenſive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal diſorders, They are particularly efficacious in carrying off all groſs humours and eruptions; feverish and bilious complaints, and are the ſafeſt and mildeſt purgative that can be uſed on any occaſion.

Deſcription of Worms, and the ſymptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infeſt the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz. the Teres or large round worm, the Aſcarides, or ſmall maw worm, the Cucurbitina, or ſhort, flat, white worm, and laſtly, the Tænia, or tape worm, ſo called from its reſemblance to tape; this is often many yards long, and is full of joints—It is moſt hurtful, and moſt difficult to cure.

Among the ſymptoms attending worms, are diſagreeable breath, eſpecially in the morning—Bad and corrupted gums—Itching in the noſe and about the ſeat—Convulſions and epileptic fits, and ſometimes privation of ſpeech—Starting and grinding of the teeth in ſleep—Irregular appetite, ſometimes loathing food, and ſometimes voracious—Purging, with ſlimy and fœtid ſtools—Vomiting—Large and hard belly—Pains and ſickneſs at the ſtomach—Pains in the head and thighs, with lowneſs of ſprits—Slow fever, with ſmall and irregular pulſe—A dry cough—Exceſſive thirſt—Sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and ſometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Perſons afflicted with any of the above ſymptoms, ſhould have immediate recourſe to HAMILTON's WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES, which have been conſtantly attended with ſucceſs in all complaints ſimilar to thoſe above deſcribed.

A doſe of this medicine given occaſionally during the warm ſeaſon, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children, a dreadful diſorder which annually deſtroys thouſands of the infant part of our cities. It is likewiſe the mildeſt and moſt certain remedy known and has reſtored to health and ſtrength a great number when in an advanced ſtage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain inſtructions are given for every part of the neceſſary treatment in ſuch caſes.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerneſs; having a pleaſing appearance, and an agreeable taſte,

TAPE WORM.

Mr. SAMUEL FULLER, Inn-keeper, on the Harford road, ten miles from Baltimore, began about 20 months ago to be grievouſly afflicted with a tape worm, which increaſed faſt in ſize and ſtrength, ſo as to excite the moſt horrid ſenſations by its writhing motions and intolerable pains, reſembling the gnawing and tearing of his bowels, which deprived him of his neceſſary ſleep, and cauſed ſuch dreadful apprehenſions as cannot be conceived but by one in a ſimilar ſituation—his appetite waſted rapidly, and with that his ſtrength, ſo that he was unable to attend to any buſineſs—when he heard of ſome excellent cures performed by Hamilton's worm lozenges, he took a large doſe, which brought away about FOUR YARDS of the worm (now in the poſſeſſion of Lee & Co.)—but a renewal of his pains ſoon convinced him that this monſtrous reptile had recovered its firſt vigour—Application was made to Lee & Co. for more of their medicine, with their advice—from which reſulted the total expulſion of his formidable enemy, in ſeveral pieces, which he ſuppoſed to be SIX or EIGHT YARDS more. A few months have ſince elapſed, and Mr. Fuller is now in perfect health. The above facts are well known to a numerous circle of his neighbours, and himſelf will gratify any who may wiſh to make further inquiries on the ſubject. Although Hamilton's worm lozenges produce ſuch powerful effects, when neceſſary, yet they are perfectly innocent and mild in their operation on the human body, even taken in large doſes, as Mr. Fuller will teſtify—their particular mildneſs is abundantly evident in innumerable cures of infants.

Communicated by Dr. John Spangler, York-town, Pennſylvania.

Letter from the reverend Mr. JOHN MOLTHER, miniſter of the Moravian church, in York-town.

York, January 4th, 1802.

Dear Sir,

Dr. Hamilton's lozenges have been recommended to me as a very adequate means for the cure of children afflicted with worms, I procured a box for the uſe of my family, to try, whether by means of this medicine, I might be enabled to gain a point, which, to accompliſh, different other means had proved abortive. My eldeſt boy had a very ſickly appearance, was very reſtleſs at night, grew leaner from time to time; in ſhort, he ſeemed to be in a precarious ſtate of health, which would yield to none of the medicines adminiſtered, until I gave him two doſes of lozenges, agreeably to the directions, which carried off a ſubſtance to al appearance a mere mucus but upon cloſe inſpection quit repeled with very ſmall living animals. Not one of that ſort of worms which uſually afflict children came from him. Since that period he grew remarkably better in health, and though lean, has got a freſh and lively complexion. Upon different occaſions I have uſed this medicines a purging ſubſtitute, and found it to anſwer exceedingly well, without bringing on belly-ache, or any of thoſe diſagreeable ſenſations, ſo often occaſioned by purging medicines. Upon the whole, I judge this medicine to be, beſides its main object, one of the moſt ſalutary means for reſtoring loſt appetite, and promoting a proper ſtate of digeſtion, by carrying off that bilious ſubſtance, which engenders ſo much indiſpoſition both among children and adults.

I am, Sir, your moſt obedient ſervant,

JOHN MOLTHER.
